Bothner Ranch receives SSGA 2021 Environmental Stewardship Award

Canadian Cattlemen's Association - Jul 5, 2021

When asked about his reasons for practicing good environmental stewardship on his lands, Ed Bothner doesn't hesitate to remind us that we humans are stewards of the land. And nowhere is that more evident than on his 300-head cow-calf ranch. Ed and Charlotte Bothner (a registered nurse for over 50 years who recently retired) manage 9,000 acres of owned and leased mixed pasture and cropland in the Beechy/Kyle, Sask. area.

Beef cattle & the carbon cycle – a new webpage

Beef Cattle Research Council - Jun 28, 2021

Carbon is a hot topic these days with individuals, organizations, and entire industries working to better understand the environmental implications of their activities. Terms like "carbon sequestration," "climate change," "carbon footprint," and "greenhouse gas emissions" are often used in the news and on social media. What do these terms mean? What role does beef production play in the carbon cycle? How can carbon sequestration and greenhouse gas emissions impact beef producers on their farms?
